NUMB. 2319

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27. 1742.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Petersburgh, Nov. 11.

THE Russian Fleet is again returned into the Ports of Cronstadt and Revel. In the first is laid up the Squadron commanded by Admiral Michakow; it consists of 7 Ships of the Line, 2 Frigates, Galliots, and 2 Prames. That which is gone into the latter, is under the Command of Rear-Admiral Bures, and is composed of 7 Ships of the Line. It was this Admiral who made Prize of the Swedish Ship lately mentioned in some Gazettes. The Captain of that Vessel pretends, that it was one of those discharg'd at Helsingfors, and that consequently he ought to be permitted to continue his Voyage; but the Rear-Admiral is positive that he cannot be discharged without the expreis Direction of the Court. General Romanzow, commands in Finland in the room of Veldt-Marshal Lacy, who arrived on the 2d at Revel. We see here a fine Speech that was made by the new French Minister to her Imperial Majesty, in which he says very little of his Master's Affairs, and a great deal of himself. It is thought there will be some considerable Changes at Court on the Return of the Empress hither; Time will shew whether these Conjectures are well founded.

Stockholm, Nov. 15. The Dyet is at present imploy'd in drawing up a Capitulation, which is to be signed and sworn to by the Successor; and 'tis said that Assembly will continue sitting till such time as his Royal Highness the Duke of Holstein's Acceptance of that Capitulation arrives. We flatter ourselves, that by his Interposition the Court of Moscow will grant us a better Peace than we should otherwise have Reason to expect. It is, however, certain, that our Heats are far from being aswaged, and that the Party of the Old Ministry are still very considerable.

Lisbon, Nov. 1. His Majesty grows better and better every day. On the 25th of last Month he went by Water to Belem, and return'd in the Evening. On the 26th the Fleet intended for Fernambuca and Paraiba sailed from hence under the Escort of a Man of War. We have receiv'd an authentick Account, that the News so industriously spread of a contageous Distemper on board the British Fleet is absolutely void of all Foundation. Our Forces consist at present of 20,000 Men, and the intended Reduction will be 2,500.

Milan, Nov. 17. The combined Army of the Austrians and Piedmontese occupy their old Posts along the Panaro. That of Spain continues still in the Neighbourhood of Bologna, having the Chartreux in the Centre, the Reno on the Right, and the Canal of Casalecchio on the Left. Count Gages has taken a great deal of Pains to improve the natural Strength of this Camp by the Addition of several Fortifications. It is certain that this General had some Design upon Tuscany, but 'tis thought they rather intended to take Winter Quarters there than to make a Conquest of that Duchy; but it seems they were discovered before they were ripe for Execution, and such Measures taken as seem to have entirely disappointed them. If after all this General should resume them, Count Traun has Orders from the Court of Vienna to follow him into Tuscany with all the Forces under his Command.

Journal of the Austrian Army under the Command of Prince Lobkowitz.

The French being happily dislodg'd from Bersun and Konigsal, we left there the two Regiments of Festitirz and Bellesnay Hussars, the Battallions of Keil and Betlehm, and the Pandours on Horseback, commanded by the Counts Perazi and Frangipani. The Regiments of St. Ignon and Ollone were canton'd about Schlany, and that of Birkenteld at Schorwitz. These Dispositions being made, the rest of the Army pass'd the Moldau on the 11th, and march'd to Bruchowitz on the 12th. On the 13th we pass'd the Elbe at Brandeis, and march'd to All-Buntzlau. On the 14th we halted, and made a general Forage. To-morrow we are to pass the Geitzara, and to march to Kostelzi.

P. S. On the 11th the Enemy sent us from Prague 388 Prisoners, and in a few Days we shall return them the like Number.

Journal of the Austrian Army in Bavaria.

General Geisrugg having passed the Danube with a Vanguard on the 10th, took Post that Night at Offerstoffen. On the 11th, while our Right Wing remained at Neider-Altach, and the Left at Deckendorff, we began to move towards Landau, with an Intent to make ourselves Masters of that important Post. The Enemy penetrating our Design, reinforced the Garison speedily with four Companies of Grenadiers, and 150 Horse, which General Geisrugg permitted; having taken his Measures so well, that on the 12th the Garison surrendered Prisoners of War. There were in the Town 550 Men, part Bavarians and part French, exclusive of a Colonel and 15 Officers. Besides these Troops, there were Two Battalions in full March for the Place, in sight of which they appeared after we were Masters of it; but upon our firing our Artillery, they took their Leaves somewhat abruptly. The same Day our Right Wing passed the Danube, and encamped at Osterhoffen, and the Left occupied their Camp at Neider-Altach. The 13th the Duke of Lorrain gave the Command of Half the Army to Count Khevenhuller, who immediately march'd towards Bering, Landau, and Dingelsing, in order to secure the Iser. The other Moiety of the Army will march to cover the Inn. The Left Wing passed the Danube on the 13th, and joined the rest of the Forces at Osterhoffen. On the 14th we march'd to Marie-Neukirch.

Ratisbon, Nov. 26. The Magistrates did not pretend to hinder the French from throwing a Bridge over the Danube in our Territory, but only reserved to themselves the Power of granting the same Liberty to the Austrians if they should desire it. The Garison of Stadtamhoff, which consisted of Two Battalions of between 15 and 1600 Men, is reduced by Sickness and Desertion to about 700, who fortify themselves there with the utmost Diligence. The Austrians have raised prodigious Contributions in the Upper Palatinate. Yesterday there arrived a French Commissary with four Carriages laden with Ready Money. This Morning we had a Report, that the French in attempting to retake Landau had received a very severe Check, and lost not fewer than 1500 Men. This Moment, just as the Post sets out, we hear that Count Saxe has had the same Misfortune. We expect impatiently the Confirmation or Refutation of these Articles.

Hague, Dec. 2. Last Week the Marquis de Fenelon waited upon the Pensionary and other Ministers of State, and inform'd them, that his Court was sincerely disposed to a Pacification; and that it was also very desirous that their High Mightinesses would take Advantage of that Sort of Cessation of Arms, which the present Season imposed on the Powers engaged in War, to recommend such a Negociation; because it was apprehended that this Proposition could not come with so good a Grace from any Power as from their High Mightynesses, since they stand extremely well with all the Courts interested in the present Disputes. To this it was answer'd, That if his Excellency would put the Heads of his Proposition into Writing, they should be the better able to judge of them. The Abbe de la Ville has been at Amsterdam, and all the other Cities of the Province, to make the like Proposal, and has received the same Answer. It is generally believed that his Serene Highness the Prince of Orange will be declared General of Foot, in the room of Baron Spiegel, who died at Berlin, while he was preparing to come hither, in order to enter into the Service of the States.

Mr. Trevor has demanded of the States General a Passage for his Majesty's Forces thro' the Territory of the City of Namur, in their March by Luxembourg towards Germany; and the same was very readily granted.

The French Court, on the first News of the March of these Forces, sent Orders directly to Marshal Noailles to march with all possible Diligence towards the Mozel, in order, if it should be found practicable, to dispute their Passage.

At the same time Assurances were given to such as incline to fit our Privateers at Brest and St. Malo, that they should have Three Fourths of whatever Prizes they take from the English for their own Share.

A private Letter from Vienna, dated the 18th Instant, N. S. concludes thus: 'The Court has this Moment received an Express, with an Account that there has been 'a very smart Action between the Van-guards of both 'Armies, in which the French were defeated, with the 'Loss of 700 Men.

The Account we lately gave from Madrid, concerning the Conduct of the Infant Don Philip in his late Expedition into Savoy, is confirmed.

The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Norwich has instituted the Rev. William Haward, B. D. to the Rectory of Brandeston, in the County of Norfolk and Diocese of Norwich, void by the Death of the last Incumbent.

Yesterday the Italian Merchants waited on the Lords of the Admiralty with a Petition, praying, That Small Men of War might be so station'd as to protect our Trade from the Cadiz, Malaga, and Ceuta Privateers; when their Lordships were pleased to assure them, that Orders had been sent to Admiral Mathews, to buy Half-Galleys, and man them with all Expedition, for that Purpose.

The same Day the Commissioners of the Land Tax for the City and Liberty of Westminster met at the Vestry-room of St. Margaret's Church, and unanimously chose Mr. John Feary to be their Clerk, in the room of Mr. Atkinson deceased, he being esteem'd a young Man of much Merit, and of good Reputation. The Place is worth 150 l. per annum.

THE Elements of ALGEBRA, in a New and Easy Method; with their Use and Application, in the Solution of a great Variety of Arithmetical and Geometrical Questions, by General and Universal Rules.

To which is prefix'd, An Introduction containing a succinct History of this Science.

By Mr. NATHANIEL HAMMOND, of the Bank.

Extract from the Account of this Book in the Works of the Learned.

'The World has long complained of the Want of a proper 'Introduction to Algebra. Some are so very concise, as if 'they were contrived not to teach but introduce a Teacher; 'others again are larger, but wrote with so little Condescen- 'tion to the Understandings of such as are altogether unac- 'quainted with the Science, that they are of very little Use 'to those who are most inclined to make use of them. Whence 'it comes to pass, that few find it practicable to make any 'Progress in Algebra without a Master, tho' certainly the Sci- 'ence in itself is far from surpassing a clear Head, and a tole- 'rable Understanding.

'The Design of this Treatise, which is of a reasonable Bulk, 'and which contains nothing which is not solid, and to the 'Purpose, is to assist such as are engaged in teaching Algebra 'with a regular Method, and a large Stock of Examples; so 'that their Scholars may find Employment in their Absence; 'and to enable such as live in Country-Places, and must con- 'sequently want all other Tutors, except Books, to acquire 'such a Skill in this Science, as may enable them to spend a 'Portion of their Time agreeably in the Cultivation of their 'better Parts, and in rendering a natural Method of enqui- 'ring after Truth habitual.

'The Treatise begins with a copious Explication of the 'Fundamental Principles of the Art, and of the Signs and 'Method of Notation used therein. The Author then pro- 'ceeds to the several Rules, explaining them carefully and 'copiously in all their various Cases; so that with a moderate 'Attention it is simply impossible for a Person, who desires to 'be Master of Algebra, to miss of his End.

'We never find this Writer advancing any thing out of its 'proper Place, or burthening the Mind of his Scholar with 'Rules, before they become necessary: He professes to have 'imitated the judicious Euclid in this Respect; and he has 'done it with equal Art and Felicity. By this means he has 'delivered the young Student in Algebra from that which is 'usually the most fatiguing Part of the Science, viz. The 'Doctrine of Surds, in the Manner in which it is usually 'taught. By the same Means he leads his Reader directly to 'Equations; and, by shewing him the Profit he will reap 'from this Science, encourages him to overcome all its Dif- 'culties. But having thus laid a strong and rational Founda- 'tion, he moves more slowly through the rest of his Work, 'that whoever follows him, may be obliged to become Master 'of ever Branch of the Art, so as to be a compleat Algebraist, 'before he quits his Book, and not a Smatterer.

'Quadratic Equations, and the Art of managing Converg- 'ing Series, the admirable Invention of the incomparable 'Newton, are here so clearly explained, and their several Ca- 'ses so plainly set down, and so thoroughly explicated, that it 'may be truly said, there are no where else such Instructions 'to be met with. At the Close of the Book, we find abund- 'ance of Observations, necessary for enlightening such Minds 'as are willing to proceed still farther in analytic Discovery; 'so that considering the Compass of this Work, and that to 'is very moderate, it is as complete as possibly can be expect- 'ed: And he who is thoroughly versed in it, will find no great 'Difficulties, when he proceeds to sublimer Studies. The 'Language is plain and natural, the Book is more copious 'than any other in Examples, and the Illustrations of them 'are so full and clear, that it is impossible to mistake their 'Meaning.———

PARALYTICON, seu Anima Nervorum A Stupendous Chymical Essence, which infallibly cures the PALSY, and all other NERVOUS DISEASES:

THE very first Dose of it (a few Drops only) instantly penetrates the inmost Recesses of the minute Nerves, and darting almost as quick as Lightning thro' the whole Human System, diffuses kindly Warmth and genial Comfort to the weaken'd Limbs, and all Parts of the Body, and affords immediate sensible Relief in the most obstinate Palsy, and all Paralytick Effects, Shaking, Trembling, Numbness, Deadness, and Weakness, whether universal, or of particular Parts only, or whether lately contracted, or of many Years Continuance.

And as the very first Dose makes an apparent demonstrable Amendment, so the continuing of it for a short Time as surely accomplishes a perfect Cure, not only of the most grievous Palsy or Relaxation of the Nerves, but also of their Cramp-like Contractions, Shrinking of the Sinews, and all other Nervous Complaints whatever, even that in Persons of either Sex, or of any Age, and whether occasioned by preceding Illnesses, fast Living, hard Drinking, long Courses of Physick, great Colds, or excessive Fatigues either of Mind or Body.

Words cannot sufficiently express the uncommon, the unparallel'd Efficacy of this great Medicine, as all who take it frankly acknowledge; and its vastly superior Excellency to all other Remedies, may be more securely rely'd on, for the absolute Cure of the Palsy, and all Paralytick Effects and Nervous Indispositions, than the Celebrated Cortex is for Intermittents.

It rectifies all Disorders of the first Passages, creates an Appetite, procures a good Digestion, enriches the Blood, restores the natural Vigour and steady Use of the Limbs, and strengthens the infirm Joints, Muscles, Tendons, Ligaments, and whole Habit to an immense Degree.

It is also very pleasant to take, is comforting and cordial to the Stomach and Bowels, and for Safety might be given to the youngest Infant.

It is to be had only, by the Author's Appointment at Mr. Rafter's Toyshop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard in the Strand, at 3s. 6d. a Bottle, with printed Directions at large.
